Colourful Trends

Co-ordination is vital for this year's trends. By carefully considering a good base of neutrals we can link rooms and areas together with colourful pattern. Stripes and mini prints will marry colour schemes together, fabrics, wall coverings and furnishings will not match exactly but have a key colour in common.

We are all aware how colour can affect our moods and the psychology attached to certain colours. It is suggested that we always turn to purple hues in times of monetary uncertainty. If more colour and pattern are used in the home it is hopefully an indication of a more optimistic mood to come but if a bit of pattern and colour can uplift the spirit of the nation, then let's decorate!

The success of a recent project can be summed up by the client's comment, "I am over the moon with the house...I now get a deep sense of satisfaction and feel calmer when I walk through the front door."

LettingSearch

The UK's premier 'lettings only' portal has launch of its completely redesigned website.

Due to the acute shortage of properties to rent, those available are snapped up quickly and often at a premium. LettingSearch is now attracting private landlords to the site to advertise their properties for rent, as well as offering them a range of specialised products and services. They also appeal to smaller letting agents who cannot always afford the fees charged by larger property portals and are now able to offer low monthly subscription charges with no fixed contract.

Offering tenants the use of their property matching service and the opportunity to view properties on that will not feature on other property portals making the task that much easier. www.lettingsearch.co.uk
